With a passion for watercolour and a willingness to take artistic challenges, she transforms ordinary subjects into extraordinary paintings. On artistic challenges, she transforms ordinary subjects into extraordinary paintings. With a passion for watercolour and a willingness to take artistic challenges, she transforms ordinary subjects into extraordinary paintings.

Janine Gallizia interviews the current president of the NWS, who shares her views and experience of competitions, volunteering and the future of watercolour…

24 STEPHANIE GOLDMAN
Jannie Galizia interviews the current president of the NWS, who shares her views and experience of competitions, volunteering and the future of watercolour…

68 VLADIMIR SHAPOVALOV
An artist genuinely moved and captivated by the sight of flowers, she particularly enjoys depicting roses and their multiple layers of petals.

86 RICHARD THORN
The English artist finds an infinite source of subjects in the ocean, which occupies a key position in his creations that are painted with his feelings rather than with an academic approach.

78 REVELATION: CHIHIRO PIERCE
A former president of the NWS talks about some of the subjects and ideas that are important to him.

46 PORTFOLIO KEN GOLDMAN
The author of sixteen instructional books, a prolific artist and a former president of the NWS talks about some of the subjects and ideas that are important to him.

56 TIM OLIVER
Immerse yourself in the world of this Texan artist, who shares his eye over our society and supposes that the author has in his/her agreement for publication free of copyright and artistic property of March 11th 1957.

68 VLADIMIR SHAPOVALOV
Attracted by the ease that watercolour offers outdoors, he has found his passion in the play of light, which he particularly appreciates in urban scenes.

6 PORTFOLIO KEN GOLDMAN
The author of sixteen instructional books, a prolific artist and a former president of the NWS talks about some of the subjects and ideas that are important to him.

68 VLADIMIR SHAPOVALOV
Attracted by the ease that watercolour offers outdoors, he has found his passion in the play of light, which he particularly appreciates in urban scenes.

72 IRENA ROMAN
Drawn to portraits and still lifes, she uses the fluidity of watercolour to create captivating works that strike a balance between realism and artistic expression.

78 REVELATION: CHIHIRO PIERCE
An artist genuinely moved and captivated by the sight of flowers, she particularly enjoys depicting roses and their multiple layers of petals.

80 FERNAND THIENPONT
An exceptional night time walk with a Belgian master watercolourist through Bruges, the capital of West Flanders and a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

92 HISTORY
Paul Émile Victor was passionate about drawing, sometimes embellished with watercolour. These drawings reveal the intimacy of a complex artist totally devoted to his vocation, who continues to influence artists today.

99 IN OUR NEXT ISSUE
The author of sixteen instructional books, a prolific artist and a former president of the NWS talks about some of the subjects and ideas that are important to him.

68 VLADIMIR SHAPOVALOV
Attracted by the ease that watercolour offers outdoors, he has found his passion in the play of light, which he particularly appreciates in urban scenes.

72 IRENA ROMAN
Drawn to portraits and still lifes, she uses the fluidity of watercolour to create captivating works that strike a balance between realism and artistic expression.

78 REVELATION: CHIHIRO PIERCE
An artist genuinely moved and captivated by the sight of flowers, she particularly enjoys depicting roses and their multiple layers of petals.

80 FERNAND THIENPONT
An exceptional night time walk with a Belgian master watercolourist through Bruges, the capital of West Flanders and a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

92 HISTORY
Paul Émile Victor was passionate about drawing, sometimes embellished with watercolour. These drawings reveal the intimacy of a complex artist totally devoted to his vocation, who continues to influence artists today.

99 IN OUR NEXT ISSUE
The author of sixteen instructional books, a prolific artist and a former president of the NWS talks about some of the subjects and ideas that are important to him.